

Online Application. The National Academy for Nuclear Training Scholarship is completed via an online application system. The steps to complete the online application are:

- Students solicit or receive notice from INPO member utility managers or executives that they will be nominated for National Academy scholarships.
- Students access <http://www.act.org/nant> to begin the application process.
 - Click the Register Now! Button to create your personal account.
 - Take the eligibility quiz.
 - Complete the online application.
- If you wish to return to your application prior to submitting it, you may do so by visiting <http://www.act.org/nant> and clicking on the Return to Application button. You will be prompted for a User ID and password which was created when you created your personal account.
- The deadline to submit the online application is 5:00 p.m., central time, July 2, 2009.

Online Utility Nomination. Utility managers or executives at INPO member utilities (at which students have work experience, typically cooperative education or intern assignments) must nominate students for National Academy scholarships. The nomination process is as follows:

- Student solicits or is selected by an INPO member utility manager or executive for nomination for a National Academy scholarship.
- Student initiates the online application following steps outlined above.
 - In the application, student provides name and email address of nominating utility manager or executive.
 - Student also provides name and email address of school official who will certify student's enrollment status (see below).
 - Student completes online application.
- The utility nominator will be sent an auto-generated e-mail containing instructions, User ID, password, and link to access the online confidential nomination form.
 - The utility nominator clicks on the link and enters his/her provided User ID and password.
 - The utility nominator will complete the online nomination form.
 - The utility nominator will have the option to view an electronic version of the student's application for completeness and accuracy prior to submitting the nomination form.
- The deadline to submit the online nomination form is 5:00 p.m., central time, July 6, 2009.

School Certification. The student's eligibility for a National Academy for Nuclear Training scholarship must be certified by a school official. The school certification process is as follows:

- Student initiates the online application following steps outlined above.
 - As part of the application, you will be prompted to provide the name and e-mail address of a school official who has the capability of answering questions regarding your major, enrollment status, and cumulative GPA.
 - Student completes online application.
- The school official will be sent an auto-generated e-mail containing instructions, User ID, password, and link to access the online certification form.
 - The school official will click on the link and enter his/her provided User ID and password.
 - The school official will complete the online certification form.
- The deadline to submit the online certification is 5:00 p.m., central time, July 6, 2009.
