GENERAL INFORMATION

Join global leaders, utility buyers, suppliers, and regulators for the INTERNATIONAL URANIUM FUEL SEMINAR (IUFS), the leading annual seminar for professionals working across the nuclear fuel cycle.

Hosted by the Nuclear Energy Institute (NEI), IUFS delivers important insights, curated programming, and high-value networking that drives business forward.

REACH YOUR AUDIENCE

Connect directly with key decision-makers across the nuclear fuel cycle, including leaders in fuel supply, mining, conversion, enrichment, fabrication, utility fuel procurement, reactor vendors, suppliers and traders, government and regulatory agencies (DOE, NRC, and international organizations), technology, finance, engineering, and transport and logistics. Elevate your brand, strengthen strategic relationships, and showcase your leadership to the executives driving investment, innovation, and the future of the global nuclear industry.

Position your organization as a trusted partner by becoming a sponsor. Demonstrate your commitment to the industry while building meaningful relationships with new and existing customers.
