GENERAL INFORMATION

THE RADIOLOGICAL EFFLUENTS AND ENVIRONMENTAL WORKSHOP provides attendees with a platform to exchange practical experiences and gain actionable insights on radiological effluents, environmental monitoring, and groundwater protection programs.

REACH YOUR AUDIENCE

Connect with active and decommissioning nuclear plant program managers; groundwater and meteorology utilities program owners; federal and state regulators; and representatives from the Institute of Nuclear Power Operations, Electric Power Research Institute, American Nuclear Insurers, and the U.S. Department of Energy involved in radiological effluents and environmental monitoring. Have conversations with commercial nuclear energy professionals interested in radiological effluents, environmental monitoring, groundwater protection and meteorology programs.
